TAILORING

Here is a subject that should appeal to the prudent man who likes to be well dressed. We are trying to spread the gospel that high grade custom-made clothes—suits made for you personally—are not necessarily more expensive than those you buy ready made. We are prepared to demonstrate this to your entire satisfaction. Why not come in, select a material from hundreds of samples and have a new suit made just for you, not for any one of a hundred men that might come to a store to buy one that is ready to put on. Try it once. You'll be happy.

EDITORIAL

In Danielson's development as one of the fastest growing centers in Eastern Connecticut there is a merchandising expansion that places the town in the front rank of the communities that are considered as high grade trading centers.

Those who are not familiar with Danielson's stores will find a delightful surprise awaiting them when they come here on their first shopping visit. Those who do know Danielson as a trading center are fully appreciative of the buying opportunities it offers and make it a point to come here regularly.

In the summer season now opening shrewd buyers will not overlook Danielson on their shopping tours. It matters little just what line of trading one is interested in. Danielson's large and varied list of stores makes it possible to buy here many things that are difficult to obtain in much larger places.

And there is this particular point to remember: Danielson's business men have smaller overhead charges to meet than have the merchants of the big towns. That means lower prices for merchandise and consequent saving in money for the purchaser.

Come to Danielson and visit its stores and other business places. Such a trip will pay dividends to any prudent buyer.
